MESMEC
More from raw

Mesmec's brand-new system for streamlining the storage of raw foods in the food processing industry. BinStacker® is the ultimate storage solution for raw materials to simplify, upgrade and optimize the storage spaces and processes.

Advantages and features of the BinStacker

- floor space savings due to the automatic stacking possibility
- energy savings - lower need for cooling energy due to maximized storage room utilization
- reduced need for manual handling
- upgraded system traceability
- enhanced cleanability and food safety procedures
- integrated weight registration at the infeed point
- can be made compatible with your ERP system

How does the BinStacker® system work?

The system loads and unloads the 200 l Euro bins, SS containers, and Dolavs to and from the multi-level storage with a wireless control system running the X and Y directions. The technology is equipped with automatic charging during operation for a long-lasting solution that enhances food safety and simplifies storage management. Automatic weight registration combined with RFID or barcode scanning are essential features to achieve full traceability for the production processes! The BinStacker® solution has an ERP system and runs with Siemens PLC system.
